

Best Full-Service Regulatory Solutions Company 2018

Freyr is a leading niche, full-service global regulatory solutions and services company supporting more than 250 global life sciences companies of all sizes. As part of our showcase of a selection of our winners from the 2018 International Life Sciences Awards, we profiled this dynamic company to gain an insight into its work and the secrets behind its success.

Exclusively focusing on the entire regulatory value-chain, Freyr leverages its domain expertise and technology innovations to evolve hi-end, next-generation regulatory solutions and services that enable accelerated performance, operational excellence and significant cost and compliance benefits to clients.

Unlike CROs in the industry, where regulatory is only a part of the services offered, Freyr provides complete suite of regulatory services ranging from strategy, intelligence, dossiers preparation, submissions etc. to post- approval / legacy product maintenance, labelling, artwork change management and other related functions.

This ensures that Freyr's clients enjoy the expert services they need to ensure their ongoing compliance and success. The firm's regulatory services are completely clients' need driven and are highly customizable. It is unique requirements of its clients and the firm's team's passion to come up with a better solution every time that keeps the team at Freyr excited every day and able to offer the best to their valued clients.

Looking to the future, Freyr is now working on a number of solutions which will support clients in managing an end-to-end labelling process integrated with regulatory intelligence, a proven process that was recognized at several forums, including the CPHI Pharma Awards 2016. By working within this area and others the firm is able to ensure that it remains at the very cutting edge of the latest developments within the regulatory services market and offer its clients the support and service that they have come to rely on.

Ultimately, over the coming years the team at Freyr foresee a technological revolution in all the life sciences sectors. Being a proven technology partner for many global organizations, the firm is working on compliant methodologies to ensure success for clients globally.
